Sustainable Design uses for Large Opening Wall Systems

NanaWall Systems, the leader in opening glass wall technology, cordially invites you to a continuing education lunch seminar entitled “Sustainable Design uses for Large Opening Wall Systems”. Guy will present the information you need to confidently design innovative projects using operable glass walls. You will learn the differences between folding and single track sliding wall systems and how and where they are used. Learn how stringent product testing supports design freedom, and view imaginative new applications in an ever increasing market place. Challenge yourself to blur the lines between landscape and living space.

Schedule:

11:15 to 12:15 Presentation

12:15 to 1:00 Lunch

1:15 to 2:00 AIBD Portsmouth Chapter business meeting.
