UCM STUDENT CHAPTER

DESIGN & BUILD DAY

Tuesday, April 4th, 2017

BE AN INSPIRATION TO THE NEXT GENERATION OF INDUSTRY PROFESSIONALS

The American Institute of Building Design, University of Central Missouri Student Chapter is hosting the 2017 Design & Build Day on their campus in Warrensburg, Missouri. They need our help to provide this opportunity to promote careers and resources in the residential sector. The sessions scheduled for this one day event will educate on major industry topics in the area of residential building and design.

The UCM Student Chapter has invited students from the University of Central Missouri, as well as regional high schools, technical colleges, and universities, in an effort to reach all students interested in or currently pursuing a degree in architectural drafting and technology, interior design, construction management, and engineering.

All companies are invited to participate in the Meet & Greet at 9:00 AM for an opportunity to meet nearly 100 students eager to enter the industry.
